Quantity Surveying Consultancy

Bushell Raven has acted for Northamptonshire County Council since 1987, and over this period has provided a thoroughly reliable and professional service as consultant quantity surveyors.

I am sure that your current business development plans will ensure that you maintain the highest standards expected by the Council from our external consultants.

We look forward to continuing our relationship by working with you on the Ise College, Raeburn and Crick school projects as well as others over the coming years.

Yours sincerely
